

INNOVATIVE DEVELOPMENT

The fully equipped on-site development- and research centre provides first-class service. With state-of-the-art equipment, our experts take up every challenge and address customized projects ranging from enquiry over development work up to first production. From the raw sausage maturing process to the production of cooked ham, various industrial production situations can be replicated on pilot plants.

RANGE OF SERVICES

Product development:

- Development of customized products
- Independent development of innovative products and technologies
- Project support from the initial contact to the production

Funded research projects:

- Individual- or cooperation projects with customers, supply industry or universities

Related services:

- Organisation of workshops and seminars
- Training of young technologists
- Pilot projects for industry customers

